MIAMI ART WEEK 2011

Nov. 15, 2011

Recession? What recession? The global art world is about to descend upon Miami for what might be called Miami Art Week. It's insanely large and packed with events -- we count 17 art fairs, a billboard project, an art-market conference, an auction preview, a new auction-house launch and dozens of museum and gallery events. If you want to stay home and pull the covers over your head, we don't blame you. But check back here for daily reports once the big show gets under way.
